OVERVIEW

Where we are

Hi team — here's a walkthrough of everything we've shipped on the new site. The homepage, booking flow, and footer are now structurally complete and live on staging. Below is a section-by-section view of what changed, with reference shots so you can see exactly how each part reads.

Two things still pending and they are the final phase: real photography for the therapy cards and clinic shots, and a reviews / testimonials section using actual client feedback. Those are covered at the end of this document under Phase 3.

New logo and name across the site

The new Kerala Ayurvedic Lifestyle logo is now live in the navbar and footer. The brand name reads as the full Kerala Ayurvedic Lifestyle everywhere on the site, instead of the shortened Kerala Ayurvedic we had earlier. The mark holds at small sizes thanks to the lotus emblem, and the wordmark is paired with a clean Montserrat caps version next to it on desktop.

Top of the homepage — new logo and full brand name in the navbar.

02 — HOMEPAGE HERO

Tagline rewrite, fits in one screen

The hero now leads with a single editorial line that signals both clinical rigour and tradition in one beat:

"Classical Kerala therapies — prescribed, prepared and performed by our certified vaidyas, with the precision of a clinic and the care of a tradition."

The whole hero — eyebrow ("Est. 2008 · Brickfields, KL"), heading, sub-headline, "Book a Consultation" button, and the trust stats bar at the bottom (15+ Years · 5,000+ Patients · 20+ Therapies) — fits within one screen on a typical desktop. No scrolling needed before the visitor sees the call to action.

Hero section — full editorial frame, locked to one viewport on desktop.

Credential line updated

The thin green strip just under the hero used to read "Vaidya Akhil H.S., B.A.M.S., M.D. (Ayu)". We replaced that with a "Certified Vaidyas (B.A.M.S., M.D. Ayu)" line — the credential is still front and centre, but the individual name now appears in the dedicated booking and therapy sections where it carries the most weight. The new strip reads:

SINCE 2008 · CERTIFIED VAIDYAS (B.A.M.S., M.D. AYU) · AUTHENTIC KERALA
FORMULAS

Split-screen rewrite

The dark-green / cream split section right below the trust strip stages the "problem vs solution" beat. Two changes here:

- Italic line on the dark side was rewritten from "The same fog returns every morning" to "The cause keeps returning" — so it speaks to all four conditions listed below (Burnout · Insomnia · Joint Pain · Brain Fog), not just brain fog.
- Cream-side caption is now an editorial pull-quote: "Kerala Ayurveda Treats / The Root, Not The Symptom." — Title Case, smart quotation marks, medium weight.
- Body paragraph now references our certified vaidyas instead of the individual doctor's name, matching the trust-strip language.

Trust strip + the rewritten split-screen section beneath it.

05 — SIGNATURE THERAPIES

Full redesign — five-card editorial row

This was the biggest change on the homepage. The old design was a long scroll-through with a sticky image swap on the right. The new design is a five-card editorial row that fits in one screen — visitors see the entire menu at a glance.

The sub-headline you sent across is in place verbatim:

"Administered under the expert guidance of Vaidya Akhil H.S., B.A.M.S., M.D. (Ayu) and performed by highly experienced Ayurvedic therapists from Kerala, India. All treatments are tailored to your dosha — ensuring a deeply restorative and authentic healing experience."

The five therapies on the homepage

- Abhyanga — Warm Oil Massage · 60 min
- Shirodhara — Forehead Oil Stream · 45 min
- Pizhichil — Royal Oil Bath · 75 min
- Panchakarma — Five-Stage Detox · 90 min
- Nasya — Nasal Therapy · 30 min

Each card shows the index (01–05), duration overlay, image, name, tagline, and a "Discover →" link. Pricing has been removed from the homepage cards — visitors see prices only when they actually go to book. Keeps the homepage feeling like a menu, not a shop.

Five-card editorial row – fits one screen, no scrolling required.

Title Case copy, "clinic" → "Centre"

The /book page is the chooser — visitors land here from the navbar's "Book Now" button and pick between a free consultation or a direct treatment booking. Copy across the page is now in Title Case, and "Brickfields clinic" was changed to "Brickfields Centre" everywhere.

Heading + sub-headline

Two Ways to Meet Your Vaidya.

Whether You're New to Ayurveda or Coming in for a Specific Therapy, We have a Dedicated Flow for You. Both Lead to Vaidya Akhil H.S., B.A.M.S., M.D. (Ayu) at Our Brickfields Centre.

- Abhyanga, Shirodhara, Panchakarma & More
- Searchable Menu by Category
- Direct Slot Booking

/book — the chooser page with both routes side by side.

Full contact block

Footer's contact column now carries everything you sent across, organised into four sub-blocks so it sits balanced against the other footer columns instead of stretching down the page.

WHAT'S NEXT

Phase 3 — Final phase before launch

Two things left to wire up. Both depend on content from your end. Once they're in place, the site is ready for launch.

PHASE 3 • ITEM 1

Real photography for the therapy cards

The five Signature Therapy cards on the homepage currently use stock placeholders. For launch we need authentic shots — ideally one strong vertical / portrait image per therapy:

- Abhyanga — full-body warm oil massage
- Shirodhara — forehead oil stream
- Pizhichil — royal oil bath
- Panchakarma — five-stage detox
- Nasya — nasal therapy

Optional but useful: 4–6 additional clinic interior / therapist-at-work shots for use elsewhere on the site (about page, booking page header, blog).

Portrait orientation (4:5), shot in natural light, focused on the therapy in progress (hands, oils, treatment table). Faces of staff are fine; client privacy permitting. RAW or high-res JPEG. We can bring them up to web standard from there.

PHASE 3 • ITEM 2

Customer reviews / testimonials section

We'll add a dedicated testimonials section to the homepage (between the therapies and the booking CTA) once you send over real client feedback.

Layout-wise we're planning a clean editorial card row — quote, author, condition treated.

What we need from you

- 6–8 real client reviews (text)
- Author name + city / country
- Condition or therapy they came in for
- Optional: a star rating, or a short photo / initials avatar

Voice notes or WhatsApp messages from happy clients are fine — we'll transcribe and tidy them up. Make sure you have permission to use the names publicly.

What we need from you to close out

1. The five therapy photos (and any extras you have).
2. Six to eight client reviews with author names + cities.
3. A final pass on the staging site so we can lock copy / spelling before going live.

Once we have these, plug-in and launch is a matter of a couple of working days.
